Mediator of the Year – Registrar Sandra Boyle Australian ADR Awards 2019

The Supreme Court is pleased to announce that Registrar Sandra Boyle was awarded Mediator of the Year at last Friday's 2019 Australian ADR Awards.

Registrar Boyle received the national award in recognition of her excellence in the area of domestic mediation and her commitment of many years to the effective resolution of matters through mediation.

Chief Justice Peter Quinlan, on behalf of the Court, congratulated Registrar Sandra Boyle on this richly deserved achievement.

“The success of the Court’s mediation program, and its national reputation for excellence, owe a significant debt to the talent and dedication of Registrar Sandra Boyle”, he said.

“Over the past 12 months, the Registrars and Judges of this Court have conducted more than 400 mediations, empowering the parties before the Court to resolve their disputes efficiently and cost effectively, within the context of the Court’s duty to deliver justice.”

“The outstanding work of the Registrars of the Court have seen its mediation program develop into a national leader. Registrar Sandra Boyle exemplifies the skill and commitment that has built that reputation. It is befitting that Sandra’s significant contribution to mediation, and to the administration of justice in this State, be nationally recognised in this way.”
